

The A B C Representatives.

Begin with great A first, you silly old drone,
 For A stands for Army, which stands looking on ;
 Nor moves to the fight, 'till the foe be all gone. }
B stands for a Blunder in or out of the State ;
 And C stands for Counsel, which oft comes too late ;
 To stand for the Devil, the D makes pretension ;
 And E for Excise, that's the Devil's invention ;
F stands for a Fiddlestick, Flood, and a Fart ;
 And G stands for going, whene'er they depart.
H stands for a Hayley, whose writings we love ;
 And J stands for Judgment, that Wits are above ;
K stands for a Knave ; and, in that humble station,
 Has the honour to stand for best part of the nation.
L may stand for Legal, on an Election List,
 But M the Majority, none can resist.
 Let N stand for Nothing, which Nothing shall be,
 Oh ! curs'd Secret Influence ! an emblem of thee ;
O stands for a Cypher, and as such represents
 The y^ea and nay Speakers in most Parliaments.
P stands for a P—t, a Plot, and a Pope ;
Q, a Quandary, for those who're past hope ;
 And R for a Ribband, a Rolle, and a Rope. }
S stands for Scrutiny, ev'ry one knows ;
T stands for T——le, the cause we'll suppose ;
V stands for a Vote, (and a moral to shew)
W for Wisdom, that Vote to bestow ;
 For as X stands for Ten,—ten pounds let it be ;
 It oft buys a Vote—not as Bribe, but a Fee.
Y stands for the man, whose sweet flowing tongue
 Was once fam'd as any the Senate among.
Z stands for---Zounds ! that's a Letter of no worth ;
 And and per se and---just to end it---and so forth.
